Carol Wainio, Direction Home, 2022, Acrylic on canvas, 72 x 60 in.

Arsenal Contemporary Art New York is pleased to present a solo exhibition of recent paintings and drawings by Carol Wainio, in partnership with Trépanier-Baer Gallery, Calgary, Alberta.

As if emerged from the fever dream of an abstract painter, Carol Wainio's pictures blend history, ecology, traditional children's literature and children's art, into a single unified surface. She employs superimposition, palimpsest, and layering in her pictures, as well as a variety of formal juxtapositions — virtual collage, incongruous symbols, accidental defacement, and childish scribbles — to evoke the hybrid emotions that are unique to her richly allusive practice.

Born of Finnish immigrant parents, Wainio's family lore of repeated displacements and invasive neighbors have infused her work with a strong interest in history, a subject she has studied at the graduate level. Her recent pictures are formally and thematically consistent with earlier work, while the confidence of maturity has increased their complexity with assured paint handling. Wainio interweaves evermore elaborate landscapes and vignettes from the fables that we have traditionally taught children in the West, stories of magic, anthropomorphism and cruelty. Her use of found commercial iconography implicates the larger culture, while her incorporation of found children's drawings introduce a dream-like poignancy to an urgent message slowly delivered.

Although she paints in acrylic, Wainio's palette and facture alternate between the somber wood tones of the oil-based old masters, and the cheerful, faded color of vintage commercial imagery from the dawn of mechanical reproduction. The succession of historical styles and pictorial idioms acts as a metaphor for the dire multigenerational legacy of climate change, species extinction, and humanitarian emergencies.

Wainio is broadly represented in major Canadian museum collections and is the recipient of numerous prestigious distinctions, notably the Governor General's Award in the Visual and Media Arts, a career defining honor for a Canadian artist. She lives and works in Ottawa and Montreal.

This is Wainio's first solo exhibition in New York.

Wainio went on to pursue history at the University of Toronto, and graduate studies at Concordia University in Montréal from which she obtained an MFA, and where she began to focus her practice on painting.
